Fort Wayne Daily Sentinel.

VOL. XXII.--NO. 127. FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 2, 1882. PRICE THREE CENTS

A Word in Regard to Self-styled Manufacturers.

It is common to read in almost any clothing advertisement, no matter how diminutive the dealer, the statement that he is a manufacturer, or his stock is made to his order, and therefore he is able to retail at wholesale prices.

Small manufacturers, except in specialties, have long since been crowded from the field. There is but one class of wholesale manufacturers in this country to-day, and they are the closi of this age. Their establishments represent fortunes in their equipments. Wholesale manufacturers, in this age of progress, to compete with each other, must be supplied with all the machinery of the present time—steam cutters, steam spongers, steam pressing machines, steam sewing and steam button-hole machines. This represents a fortune in itself. It then requires a small army to feed this vast mechanism, furnishing annual employment to thousands of operatives, to which annex the capital necessary to completely stock with material and fabric, oftentimes consuming the entire product of extensive woolen mills, and you have the reason why a small manufacturer cannot compete, except on paper, with those mammoth firms that have raised the standard of ready made clothing from its crude and imperfect make up of a dozen years ago.

Our factory at Utica contains every economy and labor saving invention of the age, which could not be maintained except by vast outlet throughout almost every Northern State, facilities which small dealers do not possess, and without which they can not compete. We boldly make the assertion that there is no clothing manufacturer in this city except that of OWEN, PIXLEY & CO.

It is very difficult, in fact impossible, to give accurate descriptions of clothing except in a general way, which is much like describing how a certain article of food tastes. It cannot be done satisfactorily. The food must be tasted, and the garment must be seen, to be fully appreciated. In this column we give, in round numbers, the number of suits upon our counters in the various departments, a greater number, probably, than can be found in any half dozen competitive stores in the city. The question of variety from which to make a selection is so important that no argument is needed to convince any one that those large stores where the greatest varieties are exhibited are the best places to make purchases. These great varieties mean vast combinations in colorings, designs and shapes. Add to this the fact that we manufacture all our clothing, and retail strictly at New York jobbing prices, and you have the argument why you should visit OWEN, PIXLEY & Co for your clothing. Come in, and afterward form your own conclusion from personal inspection.

COLLARS AND CUFFS.

The best qualities of linen collars and cuffs made 4 and 5-ply in the latest styles we sell for 12½ cents each for collars, and 25 cents per pair for cuffs.

Sentenced to be Hung.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—A Post Dispatch special from Santa Fe, N. M., says: "Milton Yarberg, a member of Billy the Kid's gang, was sentenced to be hung on the 16th of June for the murder of Charles Campbell, one year ago. NEW YORK, June 2.—Failures reported to New York for seven days are 135 against 126 last week, and 124 the week previous. The increase is in the west and south principally. New York City is still remarkably free from business disasters. The most significant failure in the country is Liannell Simpson, of Denver, Col. This is an exemplification of the temptation afforded by a too liberal credit. The geographical distribution of failures is as follows: Eastern states, 14; western, 42; middle, 27; Southern 39; Pacific States and territories, 11; New York, only 2.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

LITTLE ROCK, June 2.—A tragedy is reported from Yell county. Lazarus Brooks and James K. McGee, farmers, quarrelled over a land suit. McGee, learning that Brooks would win, became furious with passion and finding him in the woods hunting cattle in company with a fifteen-year old boy, after a few words shot him dead, and the boy starting to run, he shot after him, breaking his arm, but not checking his flight. McGee then reloaded his gun, and placing it against the head of his prostrate victim, shot the charge through his head. He then walked off and still at large.

The Strike at Irondale.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

CHICAGO, June 2.—There is no material change in the situation at Irondale this morning. All the men are still out, President Jarrett has not arrived, and a telegram has been received stating that he will not come on, as was expected. The corresponding secretary, Carmody, of the Iron Makers' association here, has just received the following dispatch from President Jarrett, at Pittburg: "My instructions being only advisory, you are at liberty to stop, provided they all stop." Mr. Carmody has also received the following telegram from Vice President J. C. Bullock, of Bay View, Milwaukee, "do not work unless they sign the scale. We are out, and will stay out until they all sign. I will call them out." The indications now are the men will stay out until the manufacturers give in. The men say they have millions of dollars in the treasury at Pittsburg. The steel and rail men will come to their aid, when money is needed. Employes of the steel rail mills and iron rail mills, in all making about 1,100 men, are out of employment here.

For Sweet Charity.

We need not remind our readers that to night is the inuagural of the series of entertainments to be given for the benefit of the "Home For the Friendless." It is expected that the Academy will be crowded, and certainly it should be, as a glance at the programme, already published in these columns, show a dazzling array of amateur talent. Mrs. Judge Lowry will sing, and her charming little daughter, Lottie, will execute several fancy dances. Other well known local artists will assist, and the music will be in charge of Prof. Ph. Diehl. The performance begins promptly at 8 o'clock.

LOCAL LINES.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Gilmour, of Cleveland, was the guest of Bishop Dwenger yesterday and this morning.

The case of Elizabeth Hessert, charged with provoke on Etta Crawford, is on trial this afternoon before Ryan, J. P.

H. H. Barcus, has purchased the confectionery opposite THE SENTINEL building, and will manufacture choice sweetmeats. We are glad to have him as a neighbor.

People living on West Main street, near Ewing, report that an infant living in a house on that street, is being starved. The little one is a mere skeleton, and its cries for food are said to be piteous.

Henry G. Olds has donated a $500 lot and N. G. Olds & Sons the finest delivery wagon that can be turned out of their shops to be raffled at the Catholic Library fair. The wagon, it is thought, will be voted to the most popular grocer in the city.

Mrs. Caroline Hammond died this morning at 5 o'clock at her residence No. 239 East Jefferson street. She leaves a large family, a son being Harry Bayless, the well known bartender of the "Home." Her age was fifty nine years. The funeral is Sunday afternoon.

Last night, at Lafayette, George Larkin, while making a running switch in the Lake Erie and Western yards at the junction, fell between the cars and both legs were severed at the hips. He will die. He was a single man aged twenty two years, and his parents reside in Fort Wayne.

This morning a farmer named John Wintenrucher brought to the city a wagon load of calves and sheep, their heads tied together in a manner that was but simple torture to the dumb brutes. Deputy Marshal Myer arrested the fellow under the cruelty to animals ordinance and he paid a fine of $5 and costs assessed by the mayor.

The hasty sketch on the inside of to day's paper of Judge Lowry's remarks on receiving the congressional nomination is necessarily more or less imperfect. Among other errors one passage should read, "Mr. Ellison's profession of devotion to the greatest good of the greatest number," properly understood, seems to mean that, in his estimation, the greatest number is "No 1."

Bayless vs. Bayless.

In the superior court, through her attorneys, Coombs, Bell & Morris, Mrs. Anna L. Bayless has brought an action for divorce from Sol S Bayless, jr. Failure to provide is the main allegation. For some time the defendant has not lived with his wife, who has been dependent for support upon her relatives. There is one child, a little girl, the issue of the marriage. Mr Bayless is the son and namesake of one of the oldest and most esteemed citizens of Indiana, and at his father's death inherited a considerable fortune, which has been dissipated. It is thought that a reconciliation may possibly be effected, as the young couple's affection for each other has not wholly died out. There are other charges on the part of the plaintiff which need not be specified as the matter stands.

OFFICIAL PAPER COUNTY AND CITY.

FRIDAY, JUNE 2.

BY E. A. HACKETT.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress - 12th District,
HON ROBERT LOWRY.

A COUNTRY journalist utters this mild protest: "A doctor will sit down and write a prescription; time, five minutes; paper and ink, one fourth of a cent; and the patient pays $1, $5, $10, as the case may be. A lawyer writes ten or twelve lines of advice and gets from $10 to $20 from his client. An editor writes a half column puff for a man, pays a man from fifty cents to one dollar for putting it in type, prints it on several dollars worth of paper, sends it to several thousand people, and then surprises the puffed man if he makes any charge."

WE find the following in the Bluffton Banner: "It appears from an announcement in the Fort Wayne papers, that Judge James L. Worden of the supreme bench will be a candidate before the coming democratic convention of Allen county for judge of the superior court of that county. This would indicate that this eminent jurist is tired of the position he now occupies and is anxious to retire therefrom. It will therefore be the duty of the democracy to look elsewhere for a candidate. We are informed that the name of the Hon. Allen Zollars, of Fort Wayne, will be presented to the convention for the place, and if our information proves true, Wells county will give him a hearty support, both in the convention and at the polls. Mr. Zollars is an able, energetic and experienced lawyer, now in the prime of manhood, and would make a dignified, just and upright judge, and we know of no better material in the district for the place. We hope the convention will be wise enough to nominate him and the people will see that he is elected."

THE KENDALLVILLE CONVENTION.

The Kendallville congressional convention was a notable gathering. The representative men of the twelfth district were there either as delegates or spectators. The congressional aspirants were all men of acknowledged ability, personally popular and magnetic, whose ascendency to the congressional role would honor their constituents and the nation. It is no wonder, therefore, that disappointment and dissatisfaction followed defeat. But this regret, this sorrow should be transitory. One man only could win the conventional laurel. All others should and no doubt will be submissive to the people's will, the will of the majority. No man who has the blood of democracy coursing through his veins will refrain from entering the race in support of the congressional nominee, Hon. Robert Lowry. In by gone days, Mr. Lowry fought the battles of the democracy against hopeless odds, against overwhelming majorities, every time depleting the ranks of the enemy and reducing its majority. For the good of democracy, and democracy alone, he often died, but never surrendered. Can past services now be forgotten and his career overlooked? We earnestly hope not. The action of the delegates from Lagrange and Steuben counties, and Perry township, of Noble county, in withdrawing from the convention, is much to be regretted, but it was as not spurred by the a feeling of transitory duration. Their democracy is too good, too fervent and too true to now falter or grow cold and indifferent. Of the defeated candidates THE SENTINEL need say little. Hon. Andrew Ellison is a distinguished jurist, a man of integrity and democrat of the truest type. Judge Ellison is and has been justly appreciated by the democracy and the people. Hon. Montgomery Hamilton is a successful business man, possessed of good judgment, a bright mind and an enviable record as a public servant and a citizen. Col. I. B. McDonald is as brave and devoted to the cause of democracy as he was to the union. His career, both public and private, has been clean and honorable. He is fearless and outspoken, and can always be found on the side of the people. Hon. Walpole G. Colerick, although a young man, has made a brilliant record. The twelfth district never had a more faithful, diligent and painstaking representative. His efforts have been for the people and with the people. Mr. Colerick is popular and magnetic and has a host of friends. His congressional career was especially marked by the degree of interest he manifested in the affairs of this district and his native county and city. No man ever left congress whose course was more heartily approved by the people than is Mr. Colerick's. THE SENTINEL places at the head of its columns the name of the nominee of the Kendallville convention, Hon. Robert Lowry, and bespeakes for him the undivided support of the democracy of the twelfth congressional district and all men who desire an able, conscientious and honest representative in the lower house of the United States congress.

IN case Egypt should become involved in war the strength of her army becomes a matter of interest. As at present it consists of nine regiments of infantry, two regiments of artillery, three regiments of coast guards, three regiments of cavalry, and four regiments of gendarmes. The infantry are armed with Remington rifles, the cavalry with sabres, revolvers, and Remington carbines, and the artillery with rifled breech loading Krupp guns. The garrison and seacoast artillery are armed with heavy Krupp guns of eight and ten inch calibre. As the utmost number of men that Egypt can place in the field by calling in all the reserves is only 120,000 it will be seen that without help she can accomplish nothing as against any European power.

The Agony Over.

Walking, the source of so much misery to many, becomes, after using Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, a service of pleasure. Corns are small indeed, but their importance is not to be judged by their size, as any one fond of a tramp can testify. Try Putnam's Extractor for corns. No discomfort, no caustic application, no blood letting, and yet splendidly effective. Warranted. Stewart & Barry, Extract from a letter from Waymant, Wayne County, Penna: "The wonderful efficacy of your great remedy (Pond's Extract) for the alleviation of pain and for healing diseased tissues was signally shown in the case of my wife while suffering from a carbuncle of the most malignant type. For four weeks she was dangerously low. Pond's Extract was prescribed by one of the best physicians in Pennsylvania. It was used lavishly and constantly for bathing, and used internally, and it was certainly the principal remedial agent in effecting her recovery. H. Torrey."

Yesterday a young Detroit lawyer, who is sojourning in the city for a day or two, was bantered to put up $40 by a Cleveland traveling man on a game of pool. The lawyer pocketed the cash and the traveling man went to his hotel to figure up "sundries" in good shape.

As Mrs. Judge Lowry was handing about some choice cigars last evening to her husband's friends, an anxious individual pressed forward and said, "How much do you sell 'em, ma'am" The person was told he was smoking at the expense of Judge Lowry, and with a radiant smile put up his dime and placed a weed between his teeth.

The accident to Mrs. John Leichner, mentioned last evening, we are glad to say will not result fatally, though at first grave apprehensions were entertained. It appears that the lady, who is in bad health, had been lying on the sofa and arising to go out of the room was seized with a sudden vertigo, falling and bursting a blood vessel in the calf of the leg. It is estimated that there was a loss of two gallons of blood. Mrs. Leichner, though very weak, is resting easily under the best medical care.

J. A. Rice, the young lawyer, who practiced at the bar of this city some months ago, had a streak of hard luck while in the city and left owing Captain Dodion, of the Tremont house, a board bill which that gentleman claims amounts to $21. A BRAKEMAN'S END.

H. A. Shaunnessy Struck by a Locomotive in the New Pittsburg Yards and Fatally Injured--Sad Scenes After the Arrival of His Mother.

This morning the new Pittsburg switchyards, east of this city, was the scene of a terrible accident. Freight train No. 11 had just been made up and was leaving the yard, when H. A. Shaunnessy, a brakeman, was ordered to run ahead and threw open a switch He jumped from the engine, No. 181, and was running along on an adjoining track when he was struck by engine No. 210, which was backing up to run into the roundhouse. The poor fellow was dragged along the track under the wheels for some distance, breaking his left leg just below the knee and crushing his right foot to a jelly. He also received internal injuries which will undoubtedly prove fatal; in fact he has been lingering between life and death since he was injured. His mother, who resides at Plymouth, was summoned by telegraph and arrived on the accommodation. Her arrival was anxiously looked for by a large number of people who congregated at the depot. As soon as she alighted from the train she rushed frantically into the waiting room and amid heartrending sobs placed her arms around her son's neck and bemoaned his sad fate. Several times she called on him to speak, but without effect, as he was unconscious of his surroundings The scene was very affecting and moved many of the spectators to tears. Mr. Shaunnessy is a young man about twenty-nine years old and unmarried. His home is at Plymouth. He has been employed as brakeman on the Pittsburg for three years and was a trusted servant. Dr. H. S. Myers administered to the injured man's wants.

LATER.

The injured man died at 11:40 this morning in great agony. The coroner's inquest will be held this evening. Just before death he recovered consciousness sufficiently to kiss his mother farewell. The remains will be sent to Plymouth this evening.

The State Telephone Exchange.

Manager Sale, of the Bluffton Telephone exchange, is soliciting subscribers in that town for the Telephone exchange which it is proposed to establish between Bluffton and this city. Each subscriber agrees to take a certain number of what are called "commutation tickets," which are valued at twenty cents each, and come in books of $5 and $10. One of these tickets will entitle the subscriber to five minutes conversation with any subscriber of the exchange in this city. Those who buy tickets will have an advantage of five cents on each ticket over those who do not. The tickets are transferable, and should any one subscribe for more than they need, they can easily dispose of them, as any subscriber to the local exchange can use them. Those who are not subscribers will be charged thirty five cents cash for each conversation and will have to go to the central office to communicate. It is the intention of the Telephone exchange to connect all the cities in Indiana by telephone.

Close Figuring for Bonds.

School bonds of Shelbyville were sold yesterday to the amount of $21,000. The bidders were Preston, Kean & Co., Chicago, $21,852; Meriden National bank, $21,757; Amoskeag Savings bank, $21,829 50; Indiana Banking company, $21,787 56, and Hon. Wm. Fleming, of this city, $21,879. Mr. Fleming's bid being the highest the bonds were sold to him. They bear six per cent interest semi-anually.

CONGRESSMAN LOWRY.

Return of His Victorious Hosts From the Hard-Fought Field of Kendallville--An Ovation to Our Distinguished Townsman.

As usual, THE SENTINEL contained the fullest account obtainable of the proceedings yesterday at Kendallville and was eagerly sought for. The proceedings have already been given to our readers condensed, and it is unnecessary to enter into minutiae at the present. As a whole, the convention was most amicably conducted and if bursts of passion carried some of the wheelhorses of the democracy occasionally off their feet, they managed eventually to pull in line. Some sharp speeches were made by Col. I B. McDonald, of Whitley, Hon. H. C. Stanley, of Noble, and Hon. Andrew Ellison, of LaGrange, who did not disguise his hostility toward Judge Lowry and his determination not to support him. A sensation was created when the delegations of Lagrange and Steuben counties and Perry township, Noble county, withdrew from the convention.

Nominations being in order, Freeman Kelly, of DeKalb, nominated Judge Lowry, and F. A. Magers nominated Col. I B. McDonald, of Whitley, who declined. Hon. W. G. Colerick was not put in nomination. A vote was taken, which resulted in 55½ for Lowry against 19½ for Colerick. The nomination of Judge Lowry having been made unanimous, he advanced amidst cheers and addressed the convention as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:

I flatter myself that I am not entirely unknown to this audience and here in Kendallville, from where so many noble men have gone forth to defend the union. I take this great privilege of reasserting my love for the principles of democracy. I will not here take occasion to defend my fair name from any assaults that have been made. I am confident that when I go before the people I will have not only the support of democrats, but of the better elements of the republican party. Fellow democrats, the democratic party has a glorious history to look back to. We have risked our lives in the past in defense of civil and religious liberty. We have seen a million and a half majority of the popular vote stifled and overturned by a returning board and the seven to nine infamy. I doubt not, my fellow citizens, but that you are all of one mind on this occasion. I shall continue to defend my democratic brethren, but if it shall be said my fingers are sticky with corruption and that I have ground the face of the poor or engaged in any questionable transactions, I will defy them all and say, "This rock shall fly from its firm base as soon as I." I shall appeal from this convention and those who have sought to overthrow this convention, and I call God to witness that I shall appeal successfully to the democratic masses of Lagrange and Steuben counties. I shall, if necessary, visit every democratic home in those counties. I nail the colors to the mast and shall sink or swim, survive or perish, with the democracy of this district. If my venerable friend from Lagrange pursues me further he will find I can reciprocate. If the gentleman who now so worthily represents this district in congress had been renominated I would have moved to make it unanimous and supported him as heartily as I have done before, once withdrawing in his favor, I misapprehended my venerable friend from Lagrange when he said he knew who the nominee of this convention would be. It has been evident for a month who the nominee of this convention would be, and therefore the people have endorsed the transaction he speaks of. I have read the confession of faith passed at the Lagrange convention, and I will not dissemble; the most of the resolutions were aimed at me My venerable friend from Lagrange is all for no-one and that no-one is himself. It is said that friendship is but a name. I stand here to prove that there is such a thing as lasting and true friendship. No man has ever had such friends as I have. Words cannot describe them. Gratitude is the sweetest flower of the soul, but it is nothing to what I pour out from the inmost recesses of my soul. I take every democrat here by the hand, and no matter what has passed, greet them as brothers. Again I thank you for the honor of naming me as your standard bearer, and in November we will plant the standard of victory high over the republican party.

Addresses were also made by P. S. O'Rourke and Colonel McDonald, of Whitley.

The following resolution was appropriately and harmoniously adopted:

Resolved, That the course of the Hon. Walpole G. Colerick, our present representative in congress, meets the unqualified and cordial approval of this convention, and that we hereby tender him our warmest commendation for the efficient manner in which he has guarded and promoted the interests of his constituents.

Satisfactory explanations were made regarding the withdrawal of members of the Lagrange, Steuben and Noble delegations and the matter was amicably reconsidered by the bolting delegates, who renewed their pledges of allegiance to Judge Lowry. The convention closed with the best of good feeling, and the tired delegates relaxed and mingled with the crowds which lined the streets of Kendallville, discussing joyously the good news. The Colerick faction accepted the situation gracefully enough, though of course it was but natural that they should pick flaws

On the return of Mr. Henry Colerick to the city he was seen by a SENTINEL reporter, and while he expressed dissatisfaction with the management of the convention by Lowry's friends, he said he should certainly, as a good democrat, support Judge Lowry. As for outside counties, he was not responsible, and would not pledge himself. Mr. Colerick said that he would not consent to put his brother in nomination because it was exacted that Congressman Colerick's relatives or friends must pledge themselves as representing him.

HOME AGAIN.

Before taking the special train home, kindly tendered the delegates by Superintendent O'Rourke, Mr. J B. Monning thoughtfully telegraphed to the city, and the City band met the travellers at the depot with an array of hacks A large crowd were assembled at the depot as the train rolled in, and Judge Lowry and his more prominent friends were heartily cheered as they disembarked. Judge Lowry, Mayor Zollinger, P. S. O'Rourke and F. J. Hayden seated themselves in an open carriage and, proceeded by the band, the procession started north on Calhoun street. Behind the carriage were the Allen county delegates, headed by the big-limbed Eugene Smith, his face radiant and carrying a banner inscribed "Lowry for Congress." The delegation was swelled by prominent democrats along the route, who marched up Calhoun to Berry, and to Judge Lowry's residence which was ablaze with light. The spacious grounds were filled with our next congressman's friends, and on the porch was Mrs. Lowry surrounded by her daughters and a dozen or more lady friends. On the broad verands, the congressional court was established, and a thoroughly democratic queen did Mrs. Lowry make, attended by the charming princesses, her daughters, and the improvised ladies of honor. Judge Lowry was embraced by his family as he ascended the steps, and after hastily exchanging greetings with a few friends he responded to the loud calls of a thousand throats hoarse from cheering. The distinguished gentleman said that he thanked his many friends for what seemed to him the honest expression of friendly feeling from man to man. He promised that if he did not bring home from Washington the honors of the speakership, as it had been flatteringly intimated by his friends that he would, he should constantly strive to discharge his duties consistently as a servant of the people of the twelfth congressional district. Judge Lowry was followed in brief and felicitous remarks by Hon. C. B Tully, of Whitley county, Hon. Eli W. Brown, of Columbia City, Dr. A. S. Parker, of the Kendallville News, Prof. J. W. Holcombe, of Valparaiso, candidate for state superintendent, Mayor Zollinger, F. J. Hayden, Col. R. S. Robertson, James M. Lane, ex-Chief of Police Smith. During these brief speeches, Mrs. Lowry and daughter handed about cigars, and the informal reception being concluded, Judge Lowry thanked his friends, and regretted the incapacity of his mansion to hold them all. He promised about the Ides of November to give a lawn fete to his political friends, and in the meantime bade them adieu.

In the parlors of his home the judge received the large number of personal friends who called to extend congratulations until past midnight.

CRUSHED BY A TREE.

The Horrible Death of Benjaman Consman, in Lafayette Township--Suspicion of Foul Play.

This morning, a messenger from Lafayette township, came to the sheriff's office and stated that the services of the coroner were needed in Lafayette township, and also possibly those of the sheriff, as some people suspected foul play. Sheriff Cosgrove accompanied by Coroner Wheelock left this this morning for the scene of the tragedy.

From a gentleman from Lafayette township we learn the particulars as follows: The deceased, Benjamin Gonsman, who is a single man, and boards with the of family Mr. Geo. Geniz, shouldered his axe yesterday morning and went into the woods on the farm of Mr. Giddings to fell timber. He did not return to dinner nor to supper and the family grew uneasy about him. Finally a man named Jack Stocking, well known in the city, suggested that he go and find him, and started for that purpose. On arriving at the woods, a horrible sight presented itself. Gonsman lay quite dead with the trunk of a large tree lying across his shoulder which was lacerated and bleeding. His skull was fractured, his chest crushed and a leg broken. One arm was tightly about the trunk of the tree, and it was with difficulty that the stiffened fingers could be relaxed from their vice-like clutch. The man's axe was at some distance from him, and the ground was covered with blood indicating more that a terrible struggle had taken place. Other suspicious circumstances put together lead some to believe that there was foul play and that Gonsman was killed and the tree placed on him to avert suspicion.

On the return of the sheriff and corner this afternoon the facts will be better obtainable.

Gonsman was an elderly man and earned his living by chopping timber.

Cartwright's new hall, at Arcola, was opened last night. A good ball was given. Speigel's orchestra furnished the music and Al. Emerson did the calling. A very pleasant time was had.

Chronic Ailments.

In chronic ailments from fixed bad habits of the body, the removal of the evil to be permanent, must necessarily be gradual. Good health is maintained and nourished by the proper attention to the requirements of the body, and the avoidance of excesses. It is wasted and destroyed by over-taxing the mind with study, anxiety, evil habits, intemperance and vicious indulgences. Keep the body and mind nourished by using that friend of temperance and long life, that queen of all health renewers, Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, and nature will soon assert her mastery over disease.

Mrs Jane Merryton, of Paris, Ky., writes: "I have been cured of great suffering, caused by weak lungs and kidneys, dyspepsia, etc. My habits are now very regular, and I find comfort in living. I used only two bottles of Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla."

Disease is an effect, not a cure. Its origin is within: its manifestations without. Hence, to cure the disease the cause must be removed, and in no other way can a cure be effected. WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is established on just this principle. It realizes that of all disease arises from deranged kidneys and liver, and it strikes at once at the root of the difficulty. The elements of which it is composed act direct upon these great organs, both as a food and a restorer, and, by placing them in a healthy condition, drive disease and pain from the system.

For the innumerable troubles caused by unhealthy Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs; for the distressing disorders of Women; for Malaria, and for physical derangements generally, this great remedy has no equal. Beware of imposters, imitations and concoctions said to be just as good.

FRIDAY, JUNE 2.

THE SENTINEL is the only afternoon daily in Fort Wayne with regular telegraphic dispatches.

Had Seven Sons in the Union Army.

Mrs. Orra Nye, wife of W. D Nye, late of Fairfield, Me., died in Unity, April 24, aged seventy five years. Mrs. Nye leaves ten children—six boys and four girls—there having been fourteen in the family. She had in the rebellion at one time seven good and true soldier sons, all volunteers. Two were killed in action, one at Chancellorville, one at Port Hudson, and one has since died of injuries contracted in the service. Good Mother Nye mourned because her other two boys were not old enough to take part in the defense of our country. Of her boys now living four are in Wisconsin and two in Massachusetts.—Bangor (Me) Whig.

Pearl Fishing on an American Coast.

Pearl fishing on the coast of Lower California is an important industry, no less than 1,000 divers being employed in bringing up the costly black pearl, which is found in a great state of perfection in the deep waters of La Paz. The pearl oysters are found from one to six miles off shore in water from one to twenty one fathoms deep. Merchants provide hats, diving apparatus, etc, for the prosecution of the business, on condition that they can purchase all the pearls found, at prices to be agreed upon. These boats, which are usually of about five tons burden, sail up and down the coast from May to November searching for treasures. The product of a year's work is about $500,000, estimating the pearls at their first value.—Alta Californian.

Horses Stampeded by a School of Fish.

Among the most peculiar and least known fish of Nevada is the couewee, a native of and found only in Pyramid and Winnemucca lakes. One of the most striking peculiarities is a mane extending along the back from head to tail, which renders the creature so unsightly that it is always sheared by the fishermen before being sent to market. They swim on the surface of the water, and in the early days ascended the river in immense schools that filled the river from bank to bank. They make a great noise when going up the river, and can be heard a considerable distance from the stream. In the spring of 1860, at the time of the Indian war, they stampeded the horses of a company of soldiers camped on the bank of the stream, and came near causing a panic, it being supposed that the Piutes were charging upon the camp.—Virginia City Enterprise.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

The man who Told the Doctor that "he felt as if he didn't want to do anything" was accused of laziness. Yet thousands experience this feeling—especially in summer—in consequence of a disordered condition of the stomach, which a few refreshing draughts of Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient would be sure to remedy.
